Colum McCann

Colum McCann is the author of two collections of short stories and three novels, including This Side of Brightness and Dancer, both international best-sellers. In 2003, Colum was named Esquire magazine's "Writer of the Year". Other awards and honours include a Pushcart Prize, the Rooney Prize, the Irish Independent Hughes and Hughes Novel of the Year 2003, and the 2002 Ireland Fund of Monaco Princess Grace Memorial Literary Award. He was recently inducted into the Hennessy Hall of Fame. His short film "Everything in this Country Must," directed by Gary McKendry, was nominated for an Oscar in 2005. Colum teaches Creative Writing at Hunter College in New York. At Concordia, Colum McCann will be reading from his highly acclaimed most recent novel Zoli, which is already an international best-seller.
